Message from National President

Message From The President - Fellowship For Impact

Dear Fellow Jaycees, "Kung Hay Fat Choy"! On behalf of the National Board of Directors, I wish everybody a most enjoyable and fruitful Year of the Dog.

If you ask me what I treasure most in Jaycees (JC) and what have kept me active, the answer is very simple - Friends.

Definitely there are many things one can achieve by participating in the JC movement like leadership skills, organizational ability and community services, just to name a few. However, even if you are not totally satisfied elsewhere, I really hope that you will at least make a few good friends in JC. Together, your group of friends will be able to produce a positive impact on your knowledge, your judgement and even your professional or family life.

The Chapter Officers and the National Officers are the first ones to recognise the impact of the support and assistance from their friends, or the lack of it, because they frequently rely on other people to complete various tasks for them. No matter how capable one person is, his energy and resources are still limited and thus the scope and the number of tasks he can accomplish by himself is also limited. Team work is particularly important in voluntary organizations like us and usually we do produce very good team work because we all believe the JC Creed will bring good impact to our community.

Fellowship, however, does not come easily although it can come naturally. We, especially the Officers, have to be able to realize the importance of fellowship and are genuinely interested in and care about other members. There are so many interesting people in JC coming from all walks of life that it is almost impossible to get to know all of them. Therefore, take your time but try to introduce yourself to at least 3 new friends in every JC function. Very soon you will thank me for this simple but wonderful idea.

Having said that, making good friends is not as simple. The JC circle is a microscopic version of the society so there are plenty of good guys as well as some bad guys out there. Be careful, in particular, with your money and your sentiment.

Our Junior Chamber International (JCI) Officers are firm believers in the power of fellowship. It is, therefore, their wish to visit this year as many Chapters and JC members as possible.

Some of you have met JCI President Arnaud Godere in the Reception Dinner during his official visit from Jan 31 to Feb 3. Unfortunately this time we were given very short notice so there was insufficient time to notify everyone of you. But for those who had the pleasure to meet with Arnaud, what do you think of him and what more do you expect from a JCI President. Drop me a line or give me a call. Both Arnaud and I would love to hear your comments. He indicated that he would like to come back again probably during our National Convention in October.

Actually before Arnaud, the JCI Vice President assigned to Hong Kong - Robert Go also came to Hong Kong between Jan 25 and 27. This was a preparatory visit according to Robert paving the way for his official visit later in March.

So we are glad that 2 JCI Officers visited Hong Kong during the first month of the year. Their message is loud and clear - JCI thinks highly of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce and JCI wants us to extend the JC spirit to more new members, through fellowship, leadership development and community services.

Thus, please remember fellowship and THE SYNERGISTIC IMPACT.

1994 JCI President Arnaud Godère

Jean-Francois Arnaud Godère was elected President of Junior International at the XLVIII JCI World Congress. He was born in Maritius on June 1, 1956. He holds a degree in business management and is LPG manager of Shell Mauritius Ltd.

President Godère special emphasis this year is Go for Gold in honor of JCI's 50th Golden Anniversary and the goal of excellence. Following is his detailed Presidential Plan of Action in which he urges members worldwide to join him in Going for Gold.

1./ JCI Golden Anniversary

In 1994 JCI will celebrate its 50th Golden Anniversary and the JCI Kobe World Congress will be the culmination of a year of accomplishment with the Golden Anniversary Committee and Kobe Congress Organizing Committee preparing festivities to mark this important event.

2./ Growth and Development

It is encouraging to note signs of an increase in membership. The Membership Task Force released and inspiring report in March, 1993. its recommendations will continue to be implemented. LOMs, NOMs and JCI must work togehter.

3./ Training

Our members have been benefiting greatly from the courses of the JCI Training Institute. PRIME Courses are available in the four official JCI languages plus Chinese. More than 60 courses have been completed worldwide this year, and 60 more are planned for next year.

The resources library will be promoted and developed as well as the education trust, the training directory, and the World Consortium for Research and Development of Training. We need to standardize training materials and certificates. We also must introduce methods of new member orientation and LOM officer training throughout JCI.

4./ Strategic Planning Committee

This year as per our Constitution, a Strategic Planning Committee will begin working on its report regarding the future of our organization. It will set the course of our actions for years to come and define how we can both face the challenges of this decade and prosper in the next one. We Also need to make an assessment of the 60 recommendations put in force by previous SPC report, evaluate its impact, and measure its results.

5./ Communication

We are living in a borderless world in which communications media transcend the boundaries of nations. We require an efficient communications system to operate in such an environment. Our objective will be to find a clear way to communicate among ourselves regardless of geographical location and time zones. We will continue developing ways to communicate woth NOMs via electronic mail.

We all need to have access to the JCI networks communicating with JCI staff and others. Through modern technology, we aim to transfer our member materials, documents, and information resources like IBN in a quick, easy and economical manner.

6./ Development Funds to NOMs

A budget of US$100,000 will be available to NOMs for development grants, and JCI will clearly communicate criteria to NOMs for submission of projects eligible for development funds. Follow-up procedures will be stringent. There will be correlation between allowance of funds and membership growth, i.e. evidence of growth prior to disbursement of funds.

7./ WHQ Services

The services offered by JCI World Headquarters to NOMs, LOMs and members are to be continuously structured and diffused. There is definitely a lack of knowledge among members of the assistance available from JCI Headquarters; many are not aware of the opportunities offered to them.

8./ Marketing Strategy

Our Organization is facing changing times. These new times require we adept to different strategies. The strength of JCI does not lie at the centre but rather with the NOMs. We are for good or bad a decentralized organization. How a decentralized organization such as ours responds to the changing needs of the marketplace is the challenge we have to face.

Our mission is to lead JCI as a global force of young professional adults capable of building up and consolidating the free world, training future leaders, welcoming all new nations embracing the Creed, and working along toward the betterment of human life and creation of positive change.

Let us aim at excellence during the year as we celebrate our Golden Anniversary, and all Go for Gold!

"Care For Youth, Develop Our Future Leaders"
關心年青一代，培育明日領袖

Foreword

Young people are the valuable assets of our community. In recent years, the increase of young drug addicts; the rise of youth crime in minor offences; the detection of teenage girls working in karaoke lounge as public relation personnel present the fact that youth problems remain an important issue in our community. Seeing the prominence of youth problems, and the importance attached in the development of our young generation, our Governor Chris Patten endorsed the "Charter for Youth" in July 1993. This "Charter for Youth" calls for individuals, and organizations to commit to the underlying ideals and principles in carrying out youth development programs and policies.

The Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce, together with all the 17 affiliated local LOMs, have jointly committed ourselves to signing the "Charter for Youth" in 1993. In 1994, it is the National Board and the Local LOMs joint commitment to take a step forward and initiate a large scale theme project "Care for Youth, Develop Our Future Leaders". As Jaycees members and a leadership development organization, we believe we could best contribute by offering youth development programmes, and to conduct survey to better understand our younger generation.

"Care for Youth, Develop Our Future Leaders" is a multi-purpose youth development program consists of 3 phases.

Phase 1

A life-style education training camp targetting at students of Form 3 & 4 with average academic performance. The training camp endeavours to bring together 300 to 400 students with the following objectives:

1. Helping young people to understand themselves, their behaviour, aspirations, and possibly helping them to set a self-improvement plan.

2. Value Concepts - Through a money management games, the concept of money values versus ideal, opportunity costs, and economic effectiveness will be shared.

3. Youth and their linkage with family, teachers, and friends - A session that involves perception of other people, sex appeals, elements of basic communication skills, and understanding one's communication style will be introduced.

4. Youth and Community - An exploratory session working with young people together put forward the question of "How can I succeed after F.5" will lead to discussion of qualities like self-confidence, working with others, experience etc. Then, the benefits of voluntary work participation will be brought forward to enable youth to take a deeper look at the opportunities of participating in voluntary work, and their sense of social values and civic responsibilities.

Phase 2

A survey exploring on the "Spending Patterns of Youth Today" will be conducted to find out the motivational factors and trends of youth spending, and possibly to compare spending patterns of different age groups and special groups. The ultimate goal is to enable parents, teachers, and youth agencies to use this survey for weighing some of the value judgement of youth today.

Phase 3

A symposium will be organized upon the publishing of the survey's finds. Representatives from Government, Youth Agencies, Teachers' Associations, and Youth will be asked to participate to cite their opinions on the topic centers around "youth spending pattern in relation to their judgement value". Comments on the findings of the survey will also be invited.

Media promotion - A series of articles on the following themes will be published on Sing Tao, The Express, and other news media channels with youth corners throughout this year to promote the MET project. They are: Youth and Education Youth and Wealth, Youth and Family, Youth and Career, Youth and Community, Youth and Health and Youth and Laws.

A minimum of 5 articles will be published under each theme. The majority of writers will be invited from Jaycees circles. External celebrities and professionals in respective disciplines will also be requested to contribute to this series of themes with a number of objectives planned under each theme.

Apex Junior Chamber

The 18th Chapter of Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce

After two months' preparation, Apex Junior Chamber (AJC), a chapter sponsored by Peninsula Jaycees, was officially formed in the Organizational meeting held on 29 January 1994.

The following appointments were made during the meeting to facilitate the smooth running of AJC's business before the successful election of the first Executive members: Senation Justin Lui and Heidi Tam to act as the chairman and secretary of the Organizing Committee for AJC respectively. Meanwhile, Senator Ivy Tam, Heidi Tam, John Chan, Thomas Ng and Tony Chan would be responsible for the Election Committee, Constitution Committee, Membership Extension Committee, ways and means committee and Charter Night Organizing Committee respectively.

According to Senator Justin, the word 'apex' could be interpreted as a goal or ideal, and the chinese name 晉峰 (Jìnfeng) signified 'working towards a goal'. AJC would be a mixed chapter ultimately using mandarin as the spoken language. In its initial year, Apex would put more emphasis on training, membership extension and fellowship.

In order that Apex could because a full LOM by October this year, the Organizing Committee had the following work plan:

29 Jan Organization Meeting
7 Feb Apply for provisional LOM status
26 Feb General Meeting
14 Mar 1st Board of directors Meeting
18 Mar - 1st General Membership Meeting
25 Jun Charter Night
Aug/Sep Apply for full LOM status
Late Oct Presentation of National Convention

January 29 yearmarked the official appiontment of Senator Justin Lui as Chairman of the organizing Committee for the 18th chapter "APEX JUNIOR CHAMBER" by a unanimous vote from the founding members.

Unofficial visit of JCI Vice President Robert Go greeted by the 1994 National Board.

Seated at the center right is JCI Vice President Robert Go. A Welcoming dinner was held on January 26.
